Sail Away to a Past Time with Hunter's Yard

Situated perfectly in the heart of the Norfolk Broads, sits Hunter's Yard. Offering visitors a unique boat rental service since 1932. Hunter's Yard is owned by a charity set up to maintain its wooden boat fleet called the Norfolk Heritage Fleet Trust. Hunter's Yard's fleet contains engineless cabin yachts and half-decker (day boats), providing a traditional sailing craft that was built by Percy Hunter and his two sons, Cyril and Stanley in the 1930s. Transporting its visitors back in time, sailing on an engineless, picturesque boat through the Norfolk Broads – Hunter's Yard provides a unique, authentic 1930s sailing experience.

The Norfolk and Suffolk Broads is an area of untouched pure natural beauty, offering visitors the chance to explore and gaze upon its sandy beaches, wildlife and unspoilt countryside – the Broads are the perfect relaxing getaway with a whole host of activities at your fingertips, including: sailing, cycling, canoeing, fishing and many other outdoor activities.

In terms of boats, Hunter's Yard maintains a selection of boating options including two berth (Hustler Class), three berth (Wood Class) and four berth (Lullaby Class) Yachts. The cabin yachts; regarded as 'Percy's Lovely Ladies' offer a traditional, tranquil journey through the waterways and due to having no engine, they are kept mostly in their original condition.

A notable recent development for Hunter's Yard is on their yacht – Lucent. Lucent is one of the four berth cabin yachts and has been fitted with an electric engine with folding propeller, the team call an 'electric quant', in 2018. Another two boats this year have also been fitted with an electric engine, to help families find the boats more accessible when mooring and getting underneath bridges. The Trust hopes to add more 'electric quants' for some of the other boats, when they can get more funding.

The team at Hunter's Yard maintain a real family feel, with eight trustees', 6 staff, some of which have worked for the company for 30 years and a small group of volunteers ready to welcome you. Being one of only five companies in the area who rent out sailing boats, the companies support each other under the umbrella of Broads Sailing by attending events together and clubbing together to purchase equipment, leading them to become a friendly sailing community.

With diverse services on offer, Hunter's Yard offers 2 days to weekly cabin yacht hire, day boat hire on their half-deckers, sailing tuition and 2-hour taster sessions where customers can enjoy the sailing experience in a safe environment. The Norfolk Heritage Fleet Trust also provides a 30% discount for schools and youth clubs to help them encourage their youngsters to explore sailing and make sailing more accessible. These youngsters can not only learn how to get the best from Mother Nature and their boat but also life skills, like learning to live with each other, cooking and such like. Pet transport you can rely on

First founded in 2014, UK Dog Transport offers a safe, secure, door to door service for pet transport. Founded by Tim Dunton, Director of UK Dog Transport, Tim had an ambition of bringing his pet transport to a wider client base.

UK Dog Transport's services have taken the company from strength to strength, allowing them to expand, offering their services throughout the UK mainland, with regular trips to Scotland and South West England. The success of UK Dog Transport is credited to their safe, comfortable and reliable services, offering an exceptional VIP experience which uses the same transport systems as the RSPCA national fleet.

UK Dog Transport uses LinTran Total Dog System transport boxes, which are ISO 9001 standard. They feature smartly made temperature controlled air conditioned pods which are designed to be cooler in the summer and warmer in the winter. UK Dog Transport takes safety of your pets extremely seriously, their pod systems have been tried and crash tested in real-life situations and all of their handlers are Dog first-aid trained, providing the highest standard of safety and care.

Another excellent quality service delivered by UK Dog Transport are the frequent check-ups they carry out throughout transporting your beloved pet, with regular checks for both water and comfort breaks.

Along with Man's Best-Friend services, they also offer pet transport for cats too, with a discounted rate for multiple dogs or cats going to and from the same address.

The Best Premium Venue in Wirral

When it comes to picturesque, traditional settings nothing compares to the quaint, stunning views of Wirral's best kept secret- The Saddle Club. Radiating beauty from its 500 year old building and surrounding garden landscape, The Saddle Club is rich in history and was originally part of Lower Farm- which is featured within the Domesday Book in Preston.

The Saddle Club is based in Wirral, perfectly situated between Liverpool and North Wales. The Saddle Club has been opening its doors and welcoming visitors and locals for many years. Although being a member's only club, The Saddle Club is also open to the public and due to its member only status, it is able to stay open far longer than most pubs.

In terms of rooms, The Saddle Club maintains a variety of room options including: five separate areas, a main members bar, snug, function room/bar/lounge area and garden. With a strong stance on preserving its original attire, The Saddle Club features a selection of traditional decorative elements including black beams with white daub walls to produce the 'Olde Worlde' feel.

One of the most unique experiences that The Saddle Club offers is Anvil Wedding Ceremonies. Offering a civil ceremony over a blacksmith's anvil, The Saddle Club is the only venue in England to offer the traditional ceremony. "The venue itself is stunning; the wealth of beauty and history at The Saddle Club is just amazing. We are the only venue in England to offer the traditional anvil ceremony and we are one of the world's premium LGBTQ wedding venues." Paul Swift.

In keeping with its 'Olde Worlde' style, The Saddle Club also provides three types of wedding packages for its customers, featuring classic traditional options such as hog roasts, a vintage gift and card post box and an old style candy cart.

The Saddle Club designs its wedding packages to be affordable, unique and classic.

The Saddle Club is available for a variety of events and is able to facilitate parties, celebrations, wakes and funerals. Proving to be the perfect party host, The Saddle Club offers its customers a selection of party options to enhance any event, including: catering, DJ, karaoke, decorations and two fully stocked bars with a serving license until 2am. With affordable prices starting from week day hire at only £50, The Saddle Club is accessible for most budgets.

"There is something for everyone," Paul stated, "we offer room hires and weddings and also provide a fully stocked bar for locals and visitors with sports regularly on the TV."

Being involved in supporting the community is important to The Saddle Club, and the venue regularly hosts charity events such as quiz nights and raffles, with a free of charge room hire to support them and the community.

Ice Cream Mamma's way!

Bring a taste of Sicily to your event with Mamma Scoop, offering traditional style gelato served from a vintage inspired tricycle.

Set up by Michelle five years ago, Mamma Scoop is based in Essex, working throughout the local area and travelling further afield on request. They cater for a vast range of events including weddings, corporate parties and other special occasions.

"My husband has a family ice cream business," Michelle explained. "I wanted my own small business that represented the family passion for ice cream - we have roots in Sicily, which is where the name 'Mamma' came from, I wanted this heritage to be an integral part of the business. Because I know ice cream so well, I wanted to share my knowledge and passion with other people and give them the chance to indulge in good quality Italian gelato!"

Mamma Scoop offers a delicious range of flavours of gelato and vegan friendly sorbet, with flavours ranging from traditional favourites such as mint choc chip and rum & raisin, to more modern flavours such as salted caramel, white chocolate honeycomb, and cookies.

Customers can enjoy an unlimited gelato service starting from an hour, depending on the guest numbers and requirements. You can choose six flavours from over 20 options on Mamma Scoop's flavour list. The ice creams can also be offered with a range of toppings, including sprinkles, marshmallows, chocolate sticks and four topping sauces.

"I always like to tailor the service to what the customer likes. For one wedding, the groom loved liquorice, so I provided liquorice flavoured ice cream and set up a liquorice themed table for them. Upon request, and at no extra cost to the customer, I themed my service to tie in with their Alice in Wonderland event - whatever they're looking for I do my best to provide it!" Certainly, Mamma Scoop enjoys being a part of anyone's special occasion and understands the importance of detail to ensure your day is everything you want it to be, so don't hesitate to get in touch and discuss your needs.

If you would like to find out more information on how Mamma Scoop can bring delicious gelato to your event and delight your guests, get in touch via the website or using the contact details below.

Bringing the party to you

Bring a unique flair to your event with the Bubble Bar, a mobile and fully licensed bar converted from a Stephens & West vintage caravan. Restored tastefully by hand, the Bubble Bar features a real hardwood bar top and fittings, and mood lighting evocative of a rustic country pub.

Created in June 2018, owner Craig Markham had always wanted to work with people and entertain. "I had a friend who worked as a bar manager at a top establishment in Birmingham," he explained. "I got him on board, and we haven't looked back since!"

Based in Birmingham, the Bubble Bar travels nationwide catering for any kind of event from parties to festivals, corporate gatherings to weddings, adapting the menu each time to suit the customer.

"The best thing about it is the staff! It's a beautiful bar, but you need to have great energy behind it. We love to have a joke and a laugh with our customers, and we really enjoy what we do. If the customer is happy, then we're happy – that's what it's all about! We always try to exceed their expectations. If there's anything else that needs doing, we'll do it, always trying to give the best service we possibly can."

The bar serves the finest gin & tonics, cocktails, prosecco, and a variety of craft, local and international drinks. "We like to work with local breweries in Birmingham, such as Dig Brew Co., to bring something unique to our customers. Some of them have pretty interesting names, like 'My Last Painting Was A Car', which brings that extra bit of intrigue and visual interest!"

Taking care of all logistics, licensing, staffing and ordering, the Bubble Bar offers peace of mind for its customers that everything is taken care of, giving them the freedom to focus on what's most important – their guests!

With ten years of experience in events photography, Jonathan Cundy set up his own photography business two years ago to develop his talents even further. Although he can't remember the precise moment he became interested in photography, Jonathan recalls that at some point he realised he had an eye for it. After this, he began to research different photographers' techniques to help inform his own art.

Now, Jonathan provides photography for weddings and small events across South Wales, as well as travelling further afield to locations including America, Italy, and even London Zoo. With a beautiful photography style that uses a mixture of traditional, creative and relaxed techniques, Jonathan strives to make his event photography speedy and casual, staying in the background so nobody knows he's there in order to get the most natural photographs possible.

On top of this, he takes group shots, getting guests to stand in shapes, like a heart, or spell out words to add some fun and creativity to your wedding album.

JONATHAN CUNDY
PHOTOGRAPHY

As well as photography, Jonathan is also interested in videography, something which he draws on to offer a unique take on a wedding event. In the evening of the special day, Jonathan asks the couple to choose a song and then gets all of the guests to sing along to it. He then uses this footage to create a personalised music video for the couple to cherish.

Recently, Jonathan has gone into partnership with two other people, helping his business to cover even more events for a wider customer base. In the future, he is hoping to cover more corporate events, as well as maintaining his presence in the wedding and small occasions market.

Unique Woodland Weddings and Camping in an AONB

Nestled in the idyllic East Devonian countryside is Boveys Down Farm, a quiet and rural retreat offering Woodland Weddings, glamping (March – September) and year-round camping. Boasting stunning views of the Farway Valley in an AONB, Boveys Down Farm is situated a few miles from the Jurassic coast, and no more than 15 minutes away from beaches, pubs, shops and restaurants, making it secluded yet conveniently close to everything you could need for a camping break.

Five years ago, the farm became a fully licensed venue for weddings and civil ceremonies. We had the pleasure of speaking to Pam about what makes Boveys Down Farm the perfect venue for your special day. "We offer a totally unique, rustic wedding venue where people can get married in the stunning surrounding woodland, and we can cater from small to large parties; we've welcomed groups of just seven people all the way to over 100! We have a full bar and an onsite catering team offering high quality food, such as hog roasts and roast dinners. We build everything around the bride and groom and provide all they could need to ensure their special day runs smoothly."

Indeed, the Woodland Pavilion used for the ceremonies is situated in a small area of woodland, close by to the indoor barn and commercial kitchen. Beautifully presented with careful attention to detail, the pavilion blends perfectly into its surroundings and boasts plenty of room for the ceremony. Additionally, there is a small car parking area for the bride or groom to arrive, before they walk along the carefully woven path to meet their spouse at the venue. After the ceremony is complete, Boveys Down Farm offers The Swallow's Rest, an indoor barn to host the reception. Everything can be modelled to meet your unique requirements, with competitive prices to make sure you won't break the bank. What's more, there is the option of booking part of or the entire site for the exclusive use of your wedding party, and Boveys even offers a bridal suit consisting of two luxury glamping tents joined together.

If you would like to find out more information on booking a camping trip at Boveys Down Farm, or hiring it as a beautifully unique wedding venue, head to their website or get in touch using the contact details below.

So good they named her twice

Based out of Leatherhead, Surrey, Palma Palmer is a life coach, public and motivational speaker, and confidence transformation coach. Driven by a passion for effecting positive change in people's lives and building up people's confidence so they can effect this change themselves, Palma is both well-endowed with experience and a genuine desire to help.

Like many, if not all of Palma's clients, she herself was subjected to a traumatic event in her life which was to have a huge impact on her. Staying true to her spirit, however, Palma did not let this trauma take over her life and rather has allowed the traumatic event to push her to help others more and more fervently than ever. At the very core of what Palma does is a genuine and intense desire to better the lives of others and make people happy. It's that simple.

I had the pleasure of speaking to Palma, who explained to me that being selfless and giving 100% to affirming positive change in people's lives is what she's always been passionate about. Indeed, Palma has been in the business of life coaching and confidence transformation coaching for over 25 years and it is a fair statement she has amassed a real knack for getting the best out of people, and if I said I wasn't motivated after our conversation, I'd be lying.

Though Palma has been honing her craft for over 25 years, it is only been over the past two years she has taken the leap of faith, starting her own business and never looking back. Palma is proud to offer the following services to clients of all ages and backgrounds: Confidence Focus, Business and Personal Goals, Empowering and Transformation, and Customer Excellence and Upselling. The Confidence Focus course, centred on Inspiration, Motivation and Clarity is on a 1:1 basis and is comprised of five sessions. Business and Personal Goals is comprised of ten sessions and gives instant inspiration and motivation, while Empowering and Transformation and Customer Excellence and Upselling are both one day workshops.

Palma is a big believer in action, in taking action to make positive change in one's own life, and not just talking about making changes. All that Palma asks from clients is 100% commitment. Combine that with Palma's powerful and inspirational coaching, and the client is almost guaranteed to see results.

Lindholm Forres Books

Lindholm Forres Books grew from the interests of two collectors. Olga Driver, a lawyer, who also has a passion for cookery books and Michael Driver, a designer, who is a collector of toys.

Both Michael and Olga found that their respective collecting interests were not always catered for in the book world. As they had amassed a considerable amount of information through collecting and research they decided to go into print.

They hope that the books by Lindholm Forres will add to the knowledge of existing collectors and will lead to further research to inspire a new generation of collectors.

Lindholm Forres Books are also occasionally able to offer some secondhand cookery books and old toys.

Please take a look at some of our current books.

THE REEL POSTER GALLERY

ORIGINAL MOVIE POSTERS

Over 20 years experience dealing in the world's finest movie posters

The Reel Poster Gallery is the creation of Bruce Marchant, who owns and manages the business today.

Originally trained as a sculptor, Bruce started collecting in the late 1980s dealing with a handful of private clients. As many collectors start out, he never thought he'd deal. Within a year or two, however, he'd amassed a volume of posters and the business of selling began. Collecting is very addictive and emotionally driven. Bruce bought what he liked; either for the film title, or more often, for the design merits of the poster itself.

Bruce founded The Reel Poster Gallery in 1991.

Prior to this date, he had always seen the market potential at major auctions like Christies and Sotheby's; notably he observed the kinds of audience that these sales were attracting. Historically the market was very US led and to lesser extent French & Italian. Within a few years Bruce and The Gallery had put London on the map for serious collectors and film aficionados.

Over this period the gallery has been responsible for a dozen publications on film posters and related subjects – with over a million copies sold worldwide. Due to this success, Taschen bought the rights to The Gallery's 'Decade' series, however Bruce also produced 500 hardback limited editions, a handful of which remain available to purchase today.

After 15 years of establishing itself as a world leading destination for original posters, Bruce realized the majority of his loyal client base no longer needed to view before buying and were more than happy to buy on our recommendation or simply from a gallery catalogue. Therefore, we now operate by appointment only with a fantastic new website to support our activities.

The He-ART of the Community in Hartlepool

Within this issue of Leisure Solutions we have selected the community driven charity Artrium Studio in Hartlepool as our Community Charity of the Month, for its ongoing work and commitment to its members. Since the studio's inception, it has supported hundreds of people through the use of arts and crafts, offering a safe place that is accessible for everyone but is primarily aimed at helping strugglers of mental health illnesses through art therapy.

Hartlepool Art Studio is a haven and exploration of creativity, enthusing art therapy with community spirit. The studio has become a sanctuary for members, and it is dedicated to providing a social experience available for all members of the community. With the overwhelming isolating feeling that mental health illnesses can contain, places like the Artrium Studio provide a vital social experience necessary for therapeutic treatment. The studio also welcomes and supports members who have both physical difficulties and learning disabilities/difficulties. Providing support and helping members engage with each other as well as their own feelings through the creativeness of art, the Artrium Studio is dedicated to bringing people together.

"We encourage everybody to get involved and we make a conscious effort to create opportunities for everyone to be included and explore the benefits of being engaged with the community and art." Kathryn Hall, Project Leader.

The studio maintains an all-inclusive approach and is in fact available for everyone over the age of 18. The Artrium Studio gives back to its community and connects people regardless of art ability, age, and disability, encouraging everyone to be involved and learn a new skill which helps to deliver independence, confidence and a sense of achievement to its members and also gives them the chance to gain accredited qualifications. The studio also provides sessions evening sessions for people who work, to make art therapy even more inclusive and available for all of the community. "There is no appointment needed!" Kathryn continued, "We offer two free sessions for visitors to make sure they have found the right place for them before signing up."

A great aspect of the charity's work is the Artrium Gallery which was set up by Hartlepool Art Studio Ltd in 2014. The gallery showcases all the works produced by its members and opens its doors to the public, to enjoy and view the art. It also provides members with a great sense of achievement in having their artistic creations displayed. Through its growth in popularity, the gallery now not only displays members' artworks, but it also exhibits and sells artwork from local artists.

A notable exhibiting appearance for members' artwork this year is on the 3rd of August – 7th of September at the Middleton Grange Shopping Centre. Exhibiting their works at The Little Shed of Forgotten Dreams, the studio is taking part in creating a micro-museum that displays art work connected to people's own experiences and stories of Hartlepool. Members of the public are also able to partake and leave their own artwork, objects or words related to their own memories of Hartlepool and place them in the micro-museum.

Currently Artrium Studio has a fundraiser to raise money to enable the studio to develop their disused outdoor area into an Easy Access Commemorative Garden. To donate their cause please visit: <https://www.gofundme.com/commemorative-easy-access-garden>.

Beautiful Bespoke Tapestry Kits from Fernsby Hall

Based in Furneux Pelham, Hertfordshire, Diana Fernsby began stitching tapestries from a young age after being taught by her Nanny. Her experience and passion grew over the years and this is evident in the stunning tapestry kits she now sells, which are based on the artwork of her lifelong friend, Catriona Hall.

We spoke to Diana about her inspiration for the business: "I watched as Catriona grew and developed her artwork, and I began to realise the paintings were perfect to turn into tapestries, and luckily she agreed." Indeed, during the 20 years that Diana spent organising charity art exhibitions, it was always Catriona's paintings that sold. Now, you can recreate these unique paintings yourself and display them in your home thanks to Diana's spectacular tapestry kits.

There are currently over 30 kits available, but this selection is ever-growing as Catriona paints new pictures to inspire the tapestries, making them anything but old-fashioned. Each kit contains a photograph of the original tapestry, instructions, tapestry wool, a needle, a printed canvas and a helpline if you get stuck. The background wool colours can also be modified to suit the customer's needs, as long as you send in a colour sample.

After you have completed your tapestry, which typically takes between three to six months, Fernsby Hall offers a 'Making Up' service which turns your finished tapestry into a cushion or framed picture. This can be from as little as £40 depending on your fabric and edging choices. Furthermore, Diana offers lessons on how to stitch the kits and how to do the cross stitch and embroidery to embellish the piece. With the end result being so beautiful, it is easy to see how a complete beginner can become hooked.

Diana's wide-ranging customer base is a testament to the excellent quality of her kits, selling them as far away as Canada, Japan, Australia and the USA, as well as the whole of the UK. If you would like to find out more information, head to the website or use the contact details below.

Situated on Norfolk's rustic coastline, West Runton is an idyllic village boasting quiet and unspoilt beaches, miles of footpaths and bridleways, and stunning views across the fields, sandstone cliffs and the expansive North Sea.

Nestled in this quaint rural community is Corner Cottage, a traditional Bed and Breakfast which has been run by Mary and Eddie Powell for 35 years. "It's a lovely area," said Mary. "We're about 300 yards away from the beach, and there are shops and cafes in the village which is just at the top of the lane."

Indeed, the Bed and Breakfast's peaceful location makes it the perfect retreat, providing the chance to escape the hustle and bustle of life's busy schedule and to simply relax.

Corner Cottage features three rooms, two with double beds and one with twin beds, and guests can enjoy a hearty full English breakfast in the mornings. Corner Cottage endeavours to use ungraded locally source produce whenever possible, and it has received a number 5 rating (Very Good) in Food Hygiene. Guests can be assured that they will want for nothing during their stay, and Corner Cottage's outstanding customer service is evident in the fact it receives numerous repeat bookings every year. "We have very good references from customers, we've never had any bad comments in the guest book, and people keep coming back again and again," Mary explained.

Indeed, Corner Cottage has been featured on a selection of websites featuring the best accommodation along the coastal path, including www.nationaltrails.co.uk and www.ramblefest.com. We've got a range of friendly animals for you to see, from rabbits and guinea pigs, to sheep, horses and alpacas.

Come and see some of the rare breeds as well. We are focused on the conservation of these breeds, which no longer get the love and attention that they once used to. We want to change that.

You can also come and meet some of the animals that we have taken in and become a new home for.

A fun-filled day out!

Located in the beautiful county of Rutland, Rutland Farm Park is a family run farm that offers guests a fun day out in the East Midlands.

The farm is located within the idyllic British countryside, situated on the remaining Noel estate that dates back to the Victorian era. Because of the property's age, the farm features a selection of Victorian farm buildings and structures, in addition to a range of exotic plants and blossoms, including rare Himalayan flowers and bamboo.

After a long closure that was caused by the infamous foot-and-mouth crisis in 2001, the farm re-opened last year due to popular demand. The farm's owners, the Ball family, wanted to welcome guests back onto their premises to encourage wildlife conservation and educate groups on the natural world.

The Ball family work hard to conserve rare species of livestock, preserving an array of unusual and endangered poultry and cattle. The family encourage visitors to ask questions about the animals and interact with breeds to learn and develop their knowledge on conservation. A member of staff will always be on hand to answer any questions and delve deeper into the breed's history, making it the ideal location for schools to learn and have fun.

The Farm is home to a flock of Lincoln Longwool sheep, a breed that has been reared since medieval times and produces 35lbs of wool in only one clipping. The farm is also home to one of the largest Friesian Holstein bullocks in the world, towering above guests at an impressive height of 7ft. In addition to these fantastic beasts, the farm also houses a host of farmyard animals, including: ducks, geese, goats, pigs, alpacas, llamas and much more.

Once guests have explored the farmyard, they can enjoy a drink and a bite to eat in the farm's Tea Room. The Tea Room is available to guests of the farm and to the general public, allowing everyone to enjoy a beverage and take in the gorgeous country scenery. The Tea Room can also accommodate groups of all sizes as the farm has generous on-site parking and plenty of indoor and outdoor tables.

It is important to note that all of the Tea Room's food is freshly prepared and caters to a variety of dietary requirements. This includes, but is not limited to: homemade cakes, ice creams, milkshakes, hot and cold drinks, baked potatoes and sandwiches. The Tea Room also organises a variety of events and occasions where the menu will change accordingly.

For any more information on the farm, or if you would like to view the farm's opening times, visit their website listed below. Alternatively, if you would like to book a table at the Tea Room or have any other specific enquiries, telephone Rutland Farm Park on the number below.

The Rings: Enabling Holidays for All

The Rings is a self-catering holiday cottage based on Ring Farm in Fife, Scotland, offering accessible holidays to those with disabilities. Set in 90 acres of farmland near Cupar, The Rings offers stunning views across the Howe of Fife to the Lomond Hills and lovely rural walks.

Moira and David Henderson bought Ring Farm in 1988 and have been offering holiday accommodation in the form of two static caravans for nearly 30 years. In 2016, The Rings was opened, after Moira became inspired to start offering accessible holidays. With a nursing background, Moira is sensitive to the challenges of those with complex needs, and after her cousin started showing symptoms similar to Motor Neurone Disease, it began greatly limiting his choices and ability to go on holiday with his family. "If someone is terminally ill, they want to spend as much quality time with their loved ones as possible," explained Moira. "This is why I decided I wanted to start offering accessible holidays, and so began a very long journey to the well-loved accommodation we now offer!"

Indeed, the process from initial idea to completion of The Rings holiday cottages was not a simple one. After sourcing help during the planning stages, Moira embarked on a lengthy process, consulting multiple experts who came up against numerous delays and problems, eventually taking seven years to move from the planning stages to final completion. It was so wrought with challenges, in fact, that Moira decided to write a book to share her eventful journey with the world: 'The Journey to The Rings – You Couldn't Make it Up'. After dealing with unexpected expenses from the difficulties during the planning stages, the sales from this book, as well as donations from those who supported the cause, helped to fund some of the essential equipment needed to make The Rings accessible for everybody.

The Rings now offers Profile Beds, Shower Chairs, Ceiling Tracking Hoists, moveable Grab Rails, and a recent addition of a UrZone bed. This bed offers a low sensory and multi-functional space to sleep, calm down or relax for both children and adults, ensuring a safe night's sleep for those with complex needs. These beds can also be packed into a suitcase and be put into the washing machine for convenient cleaning.

The cottage can accommodate groups of up to 16 people, giving guests the option to book as many or as few rooms as they need, as one big house or broken down into separate apartments. The wall between the two main living areas can move to create a single open plan space, and all rooms are on one level with corridors and doors which are wheelchair accessible. There are ceiling track hoists in three of the en-suite bedrooms, leading to wet rooms with baths. What's more, the décor considers the needs of those with sensory impairments, and the cottages' soundproofed walls ensure a peaceful stay for every guest. Every bedroom has double French windows, opening out onto the decking which leads to the parking area, and if this wasn't enough, The Rings can also offer a wheelchair accessible car if guests should need one.

"Wheelchair users say it's the most accessible accommodation they've ever stayed in. It does offer a very calming atmosphere and there is a real sense of peace. Many people have the best night's sleep they've had in a long time; it's great for calming those with complex needs. In short, The Rings is a very unique place!"

As well as excellent facilities within The Rings' itself, the surrounding area is also a superb place to explore and for taking part in a range of activities. "Fife is a great area for those with disabilities. The Fife Council has recognised the benefit of accessible tourism, and there are lots of things to do for children and adults, with plenty of wheelchair accessible and autism friendly attractions so you can make the most of your stay. There is sailing, swimming pools and gliding which are all wheelchair accessible, and St. Andrews has beach wheelchairs."

The Pilgrim Way has also just been launched, which is a 64 mile walk through inland Fife, offering outstanding views of the countryside and coast, passing medieval landmarks and historic, charming villages. To add to this, there is an exciting new project called 'In The Footsteps of Kings', an augmented reality app which takes visitors through Fife's rich heritage and immerses them in the exciting historical events that have taken place.

Over the last 12 months, word of The Rings' outstanding accommodation has clearly spread, with more and more families and groups choosing the location for its careful consideration of a range of complex needs. Moira has also been promoting accessible tourism with Visit Scotland, emphasising the idea that accessible accommodation shouldn't be clinical. It should be as inviting and relaxing as any other holiday home.

Last year, The Rings won an Accessible Tourism

Award, and Moira was named in the Queen's Birthday Honours List for her services to Accessible Tourism. "There are 12 million people in the UK who are living with disabilities, but only 2 million of these go on holiday, because it is too difficult to find appropriate accessible accommodation. This needs to change."

Full steam ahead

When Bob Haddock and fellow members of a local preservation society dreamt up plans to introduce a railway line taking visitors through the beautiful Hayling landscape, many thought he was working towards an unachievable goal. 30 years later, Bob and a team of dedicated enthusiasts have defied all odds, and Hayling Seaside Railway is still rolling along.

Opened in 1988, the railway has since moved in location (2003) and now travels along the seafront, offering passengers the opportunity to take in the breath taking ocean views as well as a rarely seen perspective of the Isle of White. The train takes passengers from sunny Beachlands, through the bustling Mengham Road to Eastoke Corner, where visitors can find a selection of England's famous and sought after fish & chip shops alongside arcades and other seaside amusements.

The feedback Hayling Seaside Railway has received over the years has been nothing short of perfect, with visitors praising the enjoyable trip, attractions and friendly service. Subsequently, Hayling Railway holds an excellent rating on trip adviser – no mean feat. The trip provides visitors, old and young alike, with the opportunity to partake in fun games and past times. A popular mention being sweet & sour, wherein passengers wave at passers-by and the pedestrian's response determining whether they're sweet or sour. The waving, giggling and excitement of such a game contributes greatly to the wonderful atmosphere created on board.

After over 30 years of dedicated service, love and care invested in the railway, Bob has decided it's time for his ownership of the tracks to come to an end. After all the hard work and effort that Bob's put in to the company, it's difficult to think of anyone more deserving of a long and prosperous retirement. There is a sense of pride instilled in Bob that shines through when speaking to him, and one can't help but feel somewhat bittersweet at hearing of his departure from the railway.

However, Bob isn't prepared to let the quality of the railway wane in his absence and is committed to ensuring that Hayling Railway continues to bring joy and adventure to its passengers for years to come. Subsequently, Bob is selling the railway. For £300,000 the railway can belong to the right person, providing that person is as dedicated to lighting up the days of families, friends and visitors as Bob has been for all these years.

Escape to Nairn with Inverwick Cottage

Escape the noise and the speed of city living with Inverwick Cottage, a fairy tale retreat nestled snugly in Nairn's West End. Nairn is an ancient coastal town, with history and culture written into the fabric of its history, and Inverwick Cottage is perfect for acting as a base camp for those who wish to explore it, or as a temporary home for those who simply wish to unwind.

Nairn sits on the Moray Firth, hailed for its long hours of sunshine and low rainfall, abundant in historic ruins and cathedrals, all open for exploration. Notably Brodie Castle is a favourite, with its high turrets, and traditional Clan Brodie displays it makes for a fascinating afternoon, whatever the weather. The town is also home to a vibrant town centre, in which visitors can try local food and produce. Or for those looking to venture beyond the realms of Nairn itself, Inverness is only 15 miles away. Inverness contains a castle, cathedral and museum and art gallery, all renowned for the condition pull of interest.

For the more adventurous traveller, the rugged coastline that Nairn rests adjacent to is a maze of wildlife and stunning views. Dolphins are regularly spotted as well as large numbers of sea birds, many of which are rarely seen outside of Scotland.

After days spent navigating the local surroundings, Inverwick Cottage is the perfect home to fall back into the arms of. The Cottage boasts two twin bedrooms, with a cot available, and a sofa bed. The dining/sitting room is spacious and the kitchen is well equipped, ideal for families or larger groups of friends. There is a garden that holiday makers are welcome to explore, and discreet access to a nearby promenade and beach, making for wonderful sunset strolls. Small dogs are permitted and the local surroundings make for lovely spaces in which to let dogs run free and explore. The Cottage also has free Wi-Fi.

The Cottage's demographic is largely made of up repeat visitors, and to no surprise given the serene beauty of the Cottage and its surroundings. In the last few years, the Cottage has lost eight customers, through no fault of the Cottage itself, but because the customers in question fell so in love with Nairn that they either moved or bought holiday homes there themselves. Nothing is truer of the encapsulating magic of Nairn and the cottage than that.

Le Tonkinios Varnish & Flexidisc Sander & Grinder

The Flexidisc Sanding system has been on the market for 30 years yet still remains one of the most versatile.

The Flexidisc is a system based on an exciting 5" disc sander attachment which securely fits in your drill. A highly efficient flexible shaft eliminates vibration and gives full control when presented full face to the job surface, enabling fantastic finishes.

The fast rotation gets sanding completed in a fraction of the time compared to conventional sanders. This multi-purpose tool converts into a super-fine finishing sander, bench grinder, sharpener, partial angle grinder, polish applicator and polisher.

The 'slap-on peel-off' Velcro type discs are coated in a super-tough material called Corundum. The re-usable discs do the work of 100 conventional discs and can cope with a wide range of materials from soft plaster to iron. Because they generate little heat, they can even sand G.R.P. and old paint without melting the material.

Using the 'slap-on' system, polish is easily applied using the foam sponge, whilst a polishing cap completes the job. DA & BE Murkin are also the sole importers of Le Tonkinios Varnish, manufactured the traditional way, using Linseed oil, Tung oil & natural resins.

Slower drying, it shows no brushmarks and easily sinks into the timber. As such, it moves with the timber and doesn't crack or peel.

Modern and Charming Holiday Cottage in Beautiful Sennen Cove

Cornwall has long been a popular UK holiday destination, thanks to its wild coastlines and breathtaking beaches. With a history steeped in mining, fishing, and farming, it is full of charming coastal villages that provide an idyllic retreat from the rush of everyday life.

One such village is Sennen Cove on Cornwall's west coast. Whilst being a popular destination, it manages to avoid being overcrowded with tourists, unlike other destinations in the area. Retaining the ambiance of an old fishing village, it hosts a little harbour with its own fleet of fishing boats and has one of Cornwall's best stretches of golden sand. Whitesands beach is a popular spot with surfers and has its own local surfing club, and Sennen Cove beach and Gwenver beach are perfect for families and surfers alike. The ancient cove was once said to have been frequented by mermaids; these may have really been dolphins, which can still be seen in the crystal clear waters close to the coastline.

Nestled in this traditional Cornish village is Surf Cottage, an 18th-century former fisherman's cottage just two minutes' walk to Sennen Cove beach, half a mile from Land's End, and eight miles from Penzance. This fantastic property boasts a number of return customers, and it is easy to see why. With a garden which overlooks the beautiful coastline, the cottage is granite-built and is surrounded by high stone walls. The spacious living and dining area has stunning views of the coast and headlands, with a TV, DVD and CD player and a dining table that seats six. There are three large bedrooms which comfortably sleep five people, including a double room with an en-suite, a twin room with a wash basin, and a third room with a large single bed. There is also an extra power shower downstairs, along with a WC and hand basin.

The surrounding area boasts plenty of little shops and cafés, pubs, galleries and a selection of excellent restaurants for evenings out. If you fancy a meal at home, however, Surf Cottage has a well-equipped kitchen to satisfy all of your culinary needs during your time away, as well as WiFi access and private parking. During the winter, you can be sure to stay cosy and warm in front of the open fire, and in the summer you can enjoy a meal or barbeque on the stone terrace whilst soaking up the Cornish sun and dazzling sea views.

As well as being close to local shops, Surf Cottage has easy access to walks along the South West Coast Path, as well as being a short distance from a number of popular attractions including the Geevor Tin Mine, the Minack Theatre, St. Michael's Mount, the Levant Tin Mine, Tate St. Ives, and the Barbara Hepworth Museum.

A modernised and renovated property, Surf Cottage still manages to retain its traditional charm, and offers self-catering accommodation all year round. If you would like to take advantage of its stunning location and amenities, contact Cathy by using the details below.

A peaceful and tranquil cottage where you can enjoy a glass or two of wine on the lawn or stone terraced patios in the summer or the same in front of the large open fire in winter.

Set in beautiful surroundings with easy access to local shops as well as places such as St. Ives, Truro, Falmouth and Penzance. If you enjoy the many beaches, surfing and cliff top walks then this is for you with the added attraction of private parking.

The perfect way to holiday!

Established in 2003 by Vivienne Wills-Crisp, Christian House and Church Swap (CHACS) is a UK based holiday organisation which enables house swaps between Christians across the UK, Europe and beyond.

"I always thought house swapping was a great way to holiday," Vivienne tells us, "and I had the idea that doing so with other Christians would enhance the experience."

"As a small company, we can offer a personal service, working directly with people to make sure that, as far as we can, they get what they want. We have no hidden costs, we just want people have a wonderful holiday, where sometimes, firm friendships are made in our growing community of house swappers!"

Indeed, house swapping works as an excellent holiday option for everyone: single people, married couples, friends, and families. Instead of paying lots of money for holiday accommodation and then leaving your house empty while you are away, you can just swap homes with other Christians. Not only does it save you money, it gives you first-hand knowledge of the local area from your hosts, a well-loved home in which to stay, and the peace of mind that your home is being looked after by trusted members of CHACS.

"As well as gathering information about new members and their property, we also get in touch with their church leader, just to ask them to verify their knowledge of them as members of their church, and this maintains everybody's peace of mind. It also means that when you go and stay in the other person's home, their local church will be ready to welcome if you decide to visit their church during your stay."

"In the last year, we have developed our website further and we are gradually getting more members in other countries; we have a handful of people living in Holland, several in other areas of Europe, and one or two in faraway countries like the US and Cambodia!"

Peaceful & Stylish Living

Chilton Park is an exclusive residential park homes development, situated on the edge of the idyllic market town of Bridgwater in Somerset.

The park offers the perfect location for peaceful and relaxing retirement/semi-retirement living, with a rich selection of attractions nearby. "We're 15 minutes' walk from the town centre," explained Tony Fry, Park Manager. "This means there is easy access to supermarkets, doctors, vets and dentists, as well as the park maintaining a country feel thanks to its excellent location with plenty of beautiful scenery, walks and beaches nearby."

Indeed, Chilton Park has the best of both worlds, with a range of amenities nearby as well as being in easy reach of the picturesque Quantock Hills and the stunning scenery of Exmoor. Residents can also make use of nearby golf courses and there are the Chilton Lakes for fishing enthusiasts. For lovers of the coast, there are the beaches of nearby Burnham-on-Sea or Minehead, with Chilton Park being only 15 minutes away from the coast.

Residents can also enjoy a brand new leisure centre just across the road from the park, featuring a gym, exercise classes, sports hall, swimming pool and much more.

"These are beautiful homes based in the heart of Somerset, and the park should be finished by the end of next year. We have 45 homes at the moment, most of which have been sold, and there will be 60 homes completed by September 2020. Since I took over in February 2018, I've done my best to implement more rapid changes to ensure the park is finished, meaning each time people come to have a look at the homes, there is something new to see."

Specialising in Omar park homes, Britain's premier park home and holiday lodge manufacturer, Chilton Park features properties in sizes ranging from 40' x 20' to 50' x 20', with most featuring two bedrooms with en-suite bathrooms.
